

Three Roos players in WA under-19 squad

Wanneroo cricketers Anthony Del Borrello, Jake Fawcett and Chris Quelch have been selected as squad members to represent WA in the under-19 cricket team.

FOUR northern suburbs cricketers have been chosen to represent WA as members of the under-19 squad.

Anthony Del Borrello, Jake Fawcett and Chris Quelch from Wanneroo will join Rob Richards from Joondalup in the team selected to go to the national championships which start in Newcastle next week.

Coach David Fitzgerald, a former Sheffield Shield batsman, believes the players have a bright future ahead of them.

“I think we’ve a got a really good, balanced team,” he said. “Our bowling department is well led by Chris Quelch at Wanneroo.”

The 14-player squad heads to Newcastle on Saturday to take part in the under-19 national championships from December 8 to 19.
